

Finding Nemesis

Wednesday, March 13, 2013

7:00 PM

Helmut Stern Auditorium

University of Michigan Museum of Art

525 S. State Street

Eric Bogosian wrote and starred in the play Talk Radio, for which he received Pulitzer Prize and Tony award nominations. For his film adaptation of the play, Bogosian received the Berlin Film Festival Silver Bear Award. He has also written a number of plays and novels. As an actor, Bogosian has appeared in numerous films and television programs, starring in Robert Altman's The Caine Mutiny Court Martial, Oliver Stone's Talk Radio, Under Siege II, Wonderland, and as Captain Danny Ross on Law & Order: Criminal Intent.

Bogosian will discuss the processes of writing a non-fiction book about the assassination in 1921 of the Ottoman Grand Vazir, Talat Pasha in Berlin. He will talk about this experience as the public writer, as well as the private and personal self.

Co-sponsors: Arts at Michigan, Department of Screen Arts & Cultures, UMS

Eric Bogosian
Playwright, novelist, actor

