POLISH LANGUAGE STUDIES SCHOLARSHIP

The U-M Copernicus Program in Polish Studies and the Department of Slavic Languages and Literatures are offering scholarships of $1000 for Polish language study at the University of Michigan during the 2018-19 academic year.

Eligibility Criteria: Open to all U-M undergraduate students studying the Polish language at the University of Michigan for one academic year. The following criteria must be fulfilled:

- Two consecutive terms of the appropriate Polish language sequence;
- Courses must be taken in Fall 2018 AND Winter 2019; and
- Students must receive a grade of B- or better in both courses.

Application Deadline: Students must apply by the end of the first week of Fall term to be considered for the 2018-19 academic year scholarship.

Application Submission: Interested students should complete the application on the Slavic Department's website at lsa.umich.edu/slavic.

Review Process: Applications are reviewed by a selection committee; students will be notified of the academic year scholarship in mid-September. Scholarships will be disbursed at the completion of the Winter term, after grades have been submitted and evaluated.
