

OUTSTANDING RESEARCH MENTOR

JENNIFER YEUNG

GRADUATE STUDENT, MEDICAL SCHOOL,
DEPARTMENT OF PHARMACOLOGY

Dr. Yeung was nominated by:
Madeline Jackson

Dr. Yeung has served as an advisor, a role model, and a friend. I constantly learn from her example every day to be ambitious, motivated, reliable, and inquisitive in not just research, but in every aspect of my life. She continually challenges me in the lab to strive to be a better, teaching me to always be curious and to question the inner workings of platelet biology. Her passion, ambition, work ethic, and mentorship have instilled in me the values that I need to succeed within academia and throughout life. She has served as a role model to me and a friend in times of need and constantly leads by example. She defines what it means to be a 'leader and the best'. Her guidance is truly essential to my success.
