COMPOSITE BIBLIOGRAPHY – CULTURAL POLITICS OF GLOBALIZATION AND COMMUNITY
Updated 8/1/2005

The publications presented below are drawn from bibliographies in papers prepared for a National Science Foundation-supported workshop on the Cultural Politics of Globalization and Community in East Central Europe held in Budapest in May 2005. This composite bibliography includes only English-language publications thereby enhancing accessibility to a wide audience. We have eliminated obvious references and general and foundational texts in relevant disciplines in order to make this assembly more useful and focused on social science grounded in, and attending to, East Central Europe. We recognize that this list is not comprehensive, but we have found it to be far more extensive than any one of our workshop participants is likely to have encountered in their own work. We hope that you will find it to be a useful collection. We invite you to send us publications that you think should be on this list, along with a brief abstract taken from the article itself, if its relevance is self evident, or one composed by you in order to explain why this publication should be included in this resource for the broader public.
