

APPLICATION FOR ECONOMICS 495 SEMINAR

Students must apply for admissions to Econ 495 seminars. Anyone interested in learning how to do economic research may apply, not just honors concentrators.

Please type or print legibly:

Name: _____

E-mail: _____ Student ID: _____

Year: Junior Senior

If more than one section is offered, which section would you prefer to take? _____

Do you intend to take this seminar for ULWR credit? YES NO

List all Economics courses you have taken at the 300 and above level. Also list your grade for each course, or else indicate that you are taking the course this semester.

Please note any aspect of your background or qualifications relevant for the seminar, including whether you have ever written a term paper or research paper (in economics or any other subject).

Describe briefly your motivation for taking course, what you hope to get from the course, and/or research ideas you have relevant for this section. Note that specific research ideas are not required.

Honors:

Are you an Economics Honors Concentrator? YES NO
Do you intend to apply to the Economics Honors Program? YES NO

Please submit this application, along with an official copy of your transcript, electronically to econundergradoffice@umich.edu. To be considered in the first round of decisions, students should apply by the first Monday in November for the following Winter term or the second Monday after the Mid-winter recess for the Fall term. Applications received after these dates will be considered so long as there are still open seats in the seminar. Questions about the application can also be directed to the above address.
