

NEWS FROM TAPPAN HALL

Join us in congratulating the Class of 2019! We are continually impressed by the accomplishments of our students, and this year was no different. We thank everyone for their hard work throughout the years, celebrate their successes, and wish them the very best on their next chapters - and reminding them, wherever they go, Go Blue!

History of Art supports three tracks to a degree, and of those:

- Twenty-eight students were History of Art Majors, who fulfilled a set of requirements (chronological, geographical, and methodological) en route to the BA.
- Eleven were double majors who decided to combine History of Art with a surprising array of fields, including Creative Writing, Environment, Psychology, Political Science, Biomolecular Science, French, Spanish, and International Studies.
- Twenty-five of our seniors chose to minor in History of Art.
- Twelve minored in Museum Studies, an interdisciplinary track housed in art history but attracting students from all over the university.

Congratulations, all!

2019-2020 Graduate Student Awards and Fellowships

Our graduate students continue to impress and represent the department well year after year. We take this opportunity to congratulate our students on their hard work and highlight their accomplishments as we move into a new academic year.

Retirements

This past year, the department bid farewell to two longstanding faculty members: Martin Powers and Patricia Simons.

Marty has been with the University since 1987. Pat has been with the University since 1989. Thank you both for your many years of service to the University and to the department of History of Art!

Save the Date!
