

HONEY, OLIVES, OCTOPUS

ADVENTURES AT THE GREEK TABLE

You are invited to a reading by

Christopher Bakken

Associate Professor in the Department of English, Allegheny College

Bakken is the author of two poetry collections, "After Greece and Goat Funeral," and "translator of the poetry of Titos Patrikios." His new book, combining the genres of memoir, travel literature, and food writing, explores the traditions and history behind eight elements of Greek cuisine--olives, bread, fish, cheese, beans, wine, meat, and honey--and journeys through the country searching for the best examples of each.

Literati Book Store

124 W. Washington St., Ann Arbor

7 PM, Monday, November 18, 2013